Instruction Philosophy

Bill's personal teaching philosophy is to take the strengths of each person's swing and mold them into a repeating and natural motion. He believes that there is no such thing as "The Swing," however there is a "BEST" swing that will work for each individual. By developing the golf fundamentals, each student will find their best golf swing. This swing will produce a consistent ball flight. Bill's commitment to his students is to assist them in maximizing their enjoyment of the great game of golf!

After-Program Options: Juniors are welcome to arrange private instruction with Bill following each daily session.

- 1 – Fifty Minute Session $90
- 6 – Fifty Minute Sessions $450
- 10 - Fifty Minute Sessions $700

Meet Bill Castner Biography

Bill Castner has been teaching and coaching golf professionally for over 30 years. He is one of a handful of golf professionals nationally to gain his specialty certification in golf instruction. Bill began playing golf as a teenager in Brooklyn, NY and is fortunate enough to have been taught by many great teachers including Tom Strafacci, Carl Lohren and Mike Hebron, Gene Borek, & Lynn Blake.

He is one of only three Master Golf Professionals in New Jersey. Bill has won the NJPGA Junior Golf Leader award for the past three years (2006-8) and has twice been in a finalist for this national award.

Bill is a twenty-five year Class A member of the Professionals Golfers Association (PGA). He currently services on the Board of the New Jersey PGA, where he chairs the Junior Golf Committee. He has been the Director of Instruction at the Hyatt Hills Golf Complex in Clark for the past seven years.

Bill has coached a diverse group of golfers during his career helping them to achieve their golf dreams.
